April 2017

Greetings from the Christian Science Joint Institutional Committee!

What a wonderful quarter we have had! We started our second quarter out with our Annual Meeting on February 11th. Evan MacDonald gave an excellent workshop on "Understanding how to use the Bible to explain Christian Science". We have since learned that this workshop has gone on to bless many in our community, including the individuals we serve.

During our annual meeting, the theme for this year was presented. Each day God gives us new and fresh inspiration to share with the community, like the manna that was given daily to the Children of Israel. Each day, each time we share a service, a bit of inspiration, a cup of cold water in Christ's name, we are not only fulfilling God's will. We are sharing His healing message of Love, His daily manna. Our theme for the new year is Hymn 46. From the last verse:

Thou my daily Task shalt give;
Day by day to Thee I live;
So shall added years fulfill
Not my own, my Father's will.

Here are a few more blessings that have unfolded this quarter:

- We have served 411 individuals in our services.
- We have passed out 90 Bibles and 78 Science & Health's.
- One church sponsored a lecture that was held at Clayton Justice Center. Two more churches have scheduled to sponsor lectures in the 3rd quarter. One to be held in Clayton Justice Center. One to be held in Hall Street.
- Please see the attached Fruitage Report for reports of growth and healing.

The blessings and fruitage that come from serving on this committee is endless. If you or anyone you know is interested in joining our work, please direct them to our website, email us or join us at our next volunteer meeting that is open to all (May 13th at 10am at Kirkwood Church). We would love to discuss with them how they can bless the community through institutional work. If you know anyone who would like to receive our quarterly fruitage, please have them email us.

Thank you to everyone for all your support. It is blessing our community.

Warmly Submitted,
Catherine Trevor-Roberts & Sherry Myles, CSJIC Co- Chairs
